[JOHN R. SAVAGE CHAPEL]

HISTORY

When Mr. John R. Savage decided to move his chemical works from Kensington Avenue to Orthodox Street and Frankford Creek, in the fall of 1860, his wife, Virginia, asked that she might have the office building so she could open a Sunday School for the farm children living between the city and the village of Frankford. In Aramingo and Harrowgate she worked among the people asking them to help by sending their children to the Sunday School.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Savage were staunch churchmen, and members of St. Mark's Church, Frankford. Their work continued with the Sunday School to the point where just ten years later St. Paul's was chartered as an organized Mission and Parish in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. John R. Savage and William Welsh were the first signers of the parish Charter, dated September 21, 1870.

For those first years Church Services as well as Sunday School were held in the small former office building, which was just down the street from the present church buildings. William Welsh had a large estate called "Strawberry Hill" which was located on Powder Mill Lane, which was in the upper end of what is now known as Juniata. Mr. Welsh remained a devout and very active layman, vestryman and Sunday School leader at St. Mark's, Frankford, but often helped Mr. and Mrs. Savage in their work. After his death, Mrs. Welsh, in 1881 gave the present St. Paul's Church, as a gift in his memory. Another wealthy patron of St. Paul's was Mrs. Sarah Wistar Gillilan. In 1891 she gave the Parish Hall, then the belfry and bells in 1892, and the Rectory in 1895, all in memory of her son Richard William Hopkinson. Mrs. Gillilan lived at Chalfont

THE SIMPSON FAMILY

In the southwest wall of the church is a window, given as a memorial to the memory of Edward and Ellen Simpson, who were among the original members of St. Paul's Church. They had six children, all of whom were members in their early years, namely, Joseph, Harry, Edward, Charles, Daisy, and Clara.

JOSEPH married Jane Mair, better known to the people of St. Paul's as "Aunt Jane".

HARRY'S only child was Russell Simpson Sr., who had three sons, all of whom attended the Church School. One son,Russell, Jr., was Crucifer and after his marriage at St. Paul's, was active, until he moved away from this area.

EDWARD had five children, Dorothy, Elmer, Florence, who married an Episcopal clergyman, Palmore Harrison, and Sadie Cuscadden and Irma Hogan, who are still communicants of this parish.

window is still intact, and has been placed in two of the Parish Hall windows.

In 1967 red wall-to-wall carpeting was installed in the church, (a long-wearing commercial grade of nylon.) During the three weeks the carpet was being installed, the Altar, Altar rail, and all the church furniture were removed and set up in the parish hall and Services were held there. On Sunday, September 17th, the 17th Sunday after Trinity, the first Service was held in the newly carpeted church. Again, in this, as in so many of the projects in the parish, many of the men helped in moving and replacing the pews, repairing parts of the staging, etc., so that the carpet work could be done at lowest possible cost.

This year, our Centennial Year, with its many wonderful events has truly been "A YEAR TO REMEMBER." St. Paul's now enters Her second century with the courage and hope and expectation of a great future ahead. May the second century for St. Paul's be even greater than the first.

CHARLES married Katherine Kunz, better known to the members of the church as "Aunt Kit". "Uncle Charlie" served as a Vestryman for forty years and she as President of the Womens Guild for many years.

CLARA married Katherine Kunz's brother, Charles, who also served as Vestryman for many years (brother and sister married brother and sister). Clara and Charles had two children, Edith and Norman. Edith is still a communicant of the church today. Norman served as Vestryman and Accounting Warden for eleven years. Norman and Ethel Tither were married at St. Paul's Church and had one son, Carl Norman, Jr., who is now an Episcopal clergyman and serves as Rector of St. Ann's Church, Middletown, Delaware.

DAISY was a life-time member of the church and had two daughters, Ethel and Mabel. Ethel, who was married at St. Paul's to Thomas MacIntosh, was active in the Girl's Friendly Society and Choir and is still a communicant of the church today. Mabel, now deceased, married William Ebinger, also a member of St. Paul's, and had three daughters.

THE BUCKIUS FAMILY

In the year of 1884 George Buckius and Katharine Stark were united in Holy Matrimony and lived on the Buckius Farm (which was located in the area where the Northeast Catholic High School now stands), and they attended St. Paul's Church. Katharine (or Kate) was Choir Mother for many years for the little boys who, at that time, wore the buster brown collars and large black bows. George and Katharine had eight children, all of whom were baptized and confirmed at St. Paul's, namely ......

FLORENCE, now deceased, was married to William Press and had three children, William, Mabel and Esther. Mabel married William Whitehead and Esther married John Dellmuth at St. Paul's. All have moved from this area.

FREDERICK – Little Freddie died at the age of twenty months.

ELIZABETH, still an active member and probably one of the oldest members of St. Paul's.

ANNA – also still an active member, was married to William Hepburn and had three children, Ethel, George and Marion. All were baptized and confirmed at St. Paul's. Ethel is still a member.

CHARLES – deceased, was a member of St. Paul's.

ANDREW – deceased, was a Vestryman for several years and an active member.

ATLEE – deceased, was Crucifer and a Sunday School teacher for a number of years.

ALBERT married Amy Houghton at St. Paul's and they are active members. Albert has served on the Vestry for many years. They have three children, Albert, Jr., Donald and Jane. Donald married Janet Crossman at St. Paul's, and they were members until moving from the area.

George Buckius' brother, Phillip, married Mary Broadbent and they were members of St. Paul's, and Phillip served on the Vestry. They had two children, Horace and Alma, who were also members. Alma married Walter Holland at St. Paul's Church and Walter was Rector's Warden for many years. They had one daughter, Mary.

George Buckius' sisters, Hannah and Mary, (better known as Mamie) were active members. Hannah married Atlee Baldwin and Mary married George Melling, all of whom were active members of St. Paul's Church during their lifetime.

THE MARSHALL–TAYLOR FAMILY

Mrs. Lydia Taylor (nee Marshall) is the oldest living member of St. Paul's as we approach the centennial date of the signing of the Charter.

Her parents belonged to St. Paul's and lived on Buckius Street when Lydia was a child. She recalls the old Savage Sunday School Building. When she was 8 years old, the Parish Hall was being built. She remembers returning one day from an errand in Harrowgate when a sudden wind storm of great force struck just as she was passing the Parish Hall. She had to grab an electric pole and hang on to keep from being blown away. Just then one of the workmen looked out of the Parish Hall and seeing her, came to her rescue, bringing her inside the building. She remembered how the sawdust and shavings were blowing all over, but she was safe. When it was over her mother came looking for her, and she was glad to find her daughter safe and sound. She also recalls how she would come over to watch the workmen four years later when they were building the Rectory, and after the workmen were gone for the day, she would go inside and balance on the beams.

She married John Taylor, a ship worker. They moved away for a while, then returned to the city and lived in Frankford, too far away to walk to St. Paul's, and not having carfare to spare, she and her sons walked to St. Mark's Church, where they were raised. But her heart was still at St. Paul's, and in later years she returned here for worship. Although today she is a shut-in, her heart is with us in this our centennial celebration.

THE McCOOL FAMILY

One of the first families of St. Paul's, Aramingo, were the McCools.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCool were married at St. Paul's in 1893. They had two daughters, Ida and Emma, both still faithful communicants.

Mrs. McCool taught Sunday School many years and worked for the Girl's Friendly Society, directing many of their plays. She also gave Girl's Friendly Society shows up at Assembly Hall for the Kings' Daughters who did charity work and gave the proceeds to the poor of Frankford. The William McCools celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary with a Service at St. Paul's.

IDA was married to Eric Lockwood at St. Paul's on August 27, 1919. Ida taught Sunday School for 40 years and Eric was a faithful Vestryman for many years.

EMMA married William Abram in 1920. He attended St. Paul's until his death. Emma, like Ida, and their mother, were faithful Girl's Friendly members.

On September 6th, 1969 Ida and Eric Lockwood celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary with a Service and Reception at St. Paul's Church. The Reverend Mr. Van Atta had a beautiful Church Service in which they repeated their marriage vows, and the reception was held in the Parish Hall following the Service. It was one of the first celebrations of the Centennial Year at St. Paul's.

CENTENNIAL PRAYER

O God, with Whom a thousand years are as one day, and Who has called us whose lives pass as a watch in the night, Look down upon the work of this parish of Thine, St. Paul's, Aramingo, at this time when we commemorate our first hundred years of worship on this ground. Send down upon us, in Whose hand Thy holy work now rests, Thy Holy Spirit to guide us, that we may preserve Thy Church, holy and undefiled before Thee; that we may in turn pass on Thy worship from father to son unto future generations of another hundred years. Give to each of us, in our own days of life some share in the working out of Thy mighty purpose here on earth. Bless this congregation, O God, and may we continue to serve Thee forever; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

BRONZE MEMORIAL TABLET LISTS CLERGY

One of our parishioners, Miss Emma Cole, has presented St. Paul's Church with the Bronze Tablet on display at the Banquet. On it is listed the names and dates of the priests who held the office of Vicar, and Rector, and the one layman who for over a year was Lay-Reader-in-Charge, since the signing of the Charter of Incorporation in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. (Sept. 21, 1870).

May this Memorial Tablet stand as a challenge to us and for those who will come after us in the continuing Christian family we call St. Paul's, Aramingo.
